Our credit union was founded by members of the local community who wanted to have access to financial services that were not available on their monthly visit, said Miles Kastner, a branch manager with Desert Financial Credit Union that will soon be opening one of its branches in Prescott.

The credit union had $6,500 from a foundation's backing, and recently generated a $7,000 donation from Desert Financial Credit Union that will soon be turned into what is now known as PUSD's district Family Resource Center and turn it into what is now known as PUSD's district Family Resource Center. Robertson and Yetman were joined on Monday by PUSD board members and other educators to help give Teacher's Closet more donations from various charities, and additional donations from various charities. Robertson shops until she finds it.

This worthwhile endeavor has won the Robertson's heart and a third-grader's mind. Robertson is a board member, and she arranged for the program to be started in a room at a school and eventually turned it into what is now known as PUSD's district Family Resource Center. Robertson and Yetman were joined on Monday by PUSD board members and other educators to help give Teacher's Closet more donations from various charities, and additional donations from various charities.

Robertson knew that the district Family Resource Center could use supplies, furniture and technology that would allow for a seamless classroom experience. But the program was limited to only the supplies that were available on their monthly visit, and Robertson was determined to fill the shelves of what started as a closet. Today, the PUSD "Teacher's Closet" is a conference-sized room filled with school supplies, furniture and technology that is suitable for classrooms in the six-school district.

"Teacher's Closet" is a conference-sized room filled with supplies, furniture and technology that is suitable for classrooms in the six-school district. The room is designed to help teachers save money on classroom supplies.

"Teacher's Closet" is a conference-sized room filled with supplies, furniture and technology that is suitable for classrooms in the six-school district. The room is designed to help teachers save money on classroom supplies.

Robertson estimated she personally invested at least $500 a year.

"Teacher's Closet" is a conference-sized room filled with supplies, furniture and technology that is suitable for classrooms in the six-school district. The room is designed to help teachers save money on classroom supplies.

"Teacher's Closet" is a conference-sized room filled with supplies, furniture and technology that is suitable for classrooms in the six-school district. The room is designed to help teachers save money on classroom supplies.

"Teacher's Closet" is a conference-sized room filled with supplies, furniture and technology that is suitable for classrooms in the six-school district. The room is designed to help teachers save money on classroom supplies.

Robertson knew that the district Family Resource Center could use supplies, furniture and technology that would allow for a seamless classroom experience. But the program was limited to only the supplies that were available on their monthly visit, and Robertson was determined to fill the shelves of what started as a closet. Today, the PUSD "Teacher's Closet" is a conference-sized room filled with supplies, furniture and technology that is suitable for classrooms in the six-school district.

"Teacher's Closet" is a conference-sized room filled with supplies, furniture and technology that is suitable for classrooms in the six-school district. The room is designed to help teachers save money on classroom supplies.

"Teacher's Closet" is a conference-sized room filled with supplies, furniture and technology that is suitable for classrooms in the six-school district. The room is designed to help teachers save money on classroom supplies.

"Teacher's Closet" is a conference-sized room filled with supplies, furniture and technology that is suitable for classrooms in the six-school district. The room is designed to help teachers save money on classroom supplies.

Robertson knew that the district Family Resource Center could use supplies, furniture and technology that would allow for a seamless classroom experience. But the program was limited to only the supplies that were available on their monthly visit, and Robertson was determined to fill the shelves of what started as a closet. Today, the PUSD "Teacher's Closet" is a conference-sized room filled with supplies, furniture and technology that is suitable for classrooms in the six-school district.

"Teacher's Closet" is a conference-sized room filled with supplies, furniture and technology that is suitable for classrooms in the six-school district. The room is designed to help teachers save money on classroom supplies.

"Teacher's Closet" is a conference-sized room filled with supplies, furniture and technology that is suitable for classrooms in the six-school district. The room is designed to help teachers save money on classroom supplies.

"Teacher's Closet" is a conference-sized room filled with supplies, furniture and technology that is suitable for classrooms in the six-school district. The room is designed to help teachers save money on classroom supplies.

Robertson knew that the district Family Resource Center could use supplies, furniture and technology that would allow for a seamless classroom experience. But the program was limited to only the supplies that were available on their monthly visit, and Robertson was determined to fill the shelves of what started as a closet. Today, the PUSD "Teacher's Closet" is a conference-sized room filled with supplies, furniture and technology that is suitable for classrooms in the six-school district.

"Teacher's Closet" is a conference-sized room filled with supplies, furniture and technology that is suitable for classrooms in the six-school district. The room is designed to help teachers save money on classroom supplies.

"Teacher's Closet" is a conference-sized room filled with supplies, furniture and technology that is suitable for classrooms in the six-school district. The room is designed to help teachers save money on classroom supplies.

"Teacher's Closet" is a conference-sized room filled with supplies, furniture and technology that is suitable for classrooms in the six-school district. The room is designed to help teachers save money on classroom supplies.

Robertson knew that the district Family Resource Center could use supplies, furniture and technology that would allow for a seamless classroom experience. But the program was limited to only the supplies that were available on their monthly visit, and Robertson was determined to fill the shelves of what started as a closet. Today, the PUSD "Teacher's Closet" is a conference-sized room filled with supplies, furniture and technology that is suitable for classrooms in the six-school district.

"Teacher's Closet" is a conference-sized room filled with supplies, furniture and technology that is suitable for classrooms in the six-school district. The room is designed to help teachers save money on classroom supplies.

"Teacher's Closet" is a conference-sized room filled with supplies, furniture and technology that is suitable for classrooms in the six-school district. The room is designed to help teachers save money on classroom supplies.

"Teacher's Closet" is a conference-sized room filled with supplies, furniture and technology that is suitable for classrooms in the six-school district. The room is designed to help teachers save money on classroom supplies.

Robertson knew that the district Family Resource Center could use supplies, furniture and technology that would allow for a seamless classroom experience. But the program was limited to only the supplies that were available on their monthly visit, and Robertson was determined to fill the shelves of what started as a closet. Today, the PUSD "Teacher's Closet" is a conference-sized room filled with supplies, furniture and technology that is suitable for classrooms in the six-school district.

"Teacher's Closet" is a conference-sized room filled with supplies, furniture and technology that is suitable for classrooms in the six-school district. The room is designed to help teachers save money on classroom supplies.

"Teacher's Closet" is a conference-sized room filled with supplies, furniture and technology that is suitable for classrooms in the six-school district. The room is designed to help teachers save money on classroom supplies.

"Teacher's Closet" is a conference-sized room filled with supplies, furniture and technology that is suitable for classrooms in the six-school district. The room is designed to help teachers save money on classroom supplies.